

Cannabis Processing Facility Design Seminar

404108448

Course Description:

This course is intended for architects and other planning, code compliance and construction professionals to learn about best practices, codes, regulations, equipment, and work practices required to construct a safe, efficient and compliant cannabis / marijuana cultivation, extraction and/or infusion facility.

Learning Objectives:

- Facility Types
- Processes & Equipment
- Applicable Cannabis Regulations & Best Practices
- Facility Design, Construction, & Administration
- Specialized Building Systems

Date: Friday, June 23

Location: 1835 Columbus St.
San Diego, CA 92101

Time: 8:30 AM - 5:00 PM

AIA Credit Hours: 6.5

Price: $295 (members) &
$395 (non-members)

About the Speaker:

James Lieberman is a Certified Industrial Hygienist, has a B.S. degree in chemistry from the University of Richmond and an M.B.A. from the University of Colorado. He founded and leads THC Safety and serves clients as a senior design, safety and compliance professional.

For more information visit our website: thc-safety.com